THE SWORD 1997

University of Toronto

This yearbook's theme is a continuation of the theme from Orientation 1996: "SMC says it all!" Throughout this book, you shall see more write-ups telling you the story of various events and aspects of St. Michael's College. However, even though St. Mike's offers all of the aspects of a well rounded and balanced life, one must actively participate to reap the rewards. Thus, a corollary to the theme is making you mark.

It is believed that St. Mike's provides you with the opportunity to participate in all aspects of life and prepares you to make your mark in life.

"SMC says it all . . . so make your mark!"

orientation 1996

The week beginning Tuesday September 3rd and ending Saturday September 7th marked a week filled with events to welcome in the Class of 2000. The theme of Orientation 1996 was "SMC Says it all!" which is indicative of the college.

The week began with a welcome mass at St. Basil's Church followed by Olympiad events, topped off with a boat cruise on the Empress of Canada.

Other events included a hypnotist, the "Make Your Mark" Pub, and a night out under the stars at Cactus Charlie's at Ontario Place.

Throughout the week, the frosh participated in friendly competition. The Orientation Olympiad events organized included such games as the Elephant race, the three legged race, water balloon tossing, and the traditional tug of war event.

The week was topped off with a Carnival Day in which Energy 108 provided music. Some activities included the dunk tank, a 6 foot slide, and volleyball. Fun was had by all of the frosh.

Clockwise from top: the dynamic coordinators, Silvana Aceto and Tanio Fiorino; passing the balloon — one of the many games of the orientation olympiad; the marshals at play — hey, you can't work all the time; and the staff and crew behind the scenes Clockwise from top left: Energy 108 boy and friends; the release of balloons at the fundraiser event; frosh signing up to get involved at St. Michael's; "Oooooh, Basil you do have style!"; tugging away at one of the many Olympiad events.

"The boat cruise on the first night was a blast. Although my feet were hurting at the end of the trip, and the dance floor was packed, I still had a lot of fun seeing Toronto from the lake and dancing all night."

"The Olympiad events were a lot of fun . . . especially since my group won! WooHoo!"

"The 'Make Your Mark' Pub was a great idea. The music was good, and I met a lot of other frosh besides those in my group."

"Ontario Place was great. The weather was perfect. Not a cloud in the sky. Two thumbs up to (the co-ordinators)!"

hallowe'en pub

On the dark night of Thursday October 24th, St. Michael's held its annual Halloween pub. At first, the National Walk out day on the 25th seemed to threaten the attendance at the pub, but soon the gools, guys and gals poured in through the doors.

There were many different costumes to be observed. Some of the more original costumes included Wonder Woman, Biohazard Woman and who could forget, Siobhan (the SMCSU Double Blue Commissioner) dressed up as the adult version of Pebbles.

The students kept coming in right until 1:00 a.m., and the numbers revelled those of the ever-successful Time Warp Pub, however, were slightly lower.

The hit of the night was when Mike Sokolski made his ever so grand appearance, seeming to be dressed as a regular student, but mooned everyone that passed. His costume is one that every single council Vice-President should wear (see opposite page).

Clockwise from top: A hippie girl and . . . well . . . let's call her cord girl; three St. Joe's girls foretell their future careers; Wonder Woman decides to visit St. Mike's along with a farmer (whose costume wins in the originality department) and Egyptian Joe.

Clockwise from top left: Mikey says "You can just kiss my ___"; Is it a girl, or is it a guy? It's Pat!'; A cat costume (placing second in the original costume contest behind a farmer costume) and Steve Urkle's girlfriend; and a grown up version of Pebbles

This yearbook is an album of events and the people who made them during the year at St. Michael's College. It records the friendships and associations, the hours of study and repose, the times for worship and for games, which have made this year special to us all. The faces and events, so fresh in your memory on first reading, will become less clear as the years go by. But every time you open this book they will come back to you in a flood. The Sword for 1997 will also be a reminder of the spirit of St. Michael's, a spirit which I hope will be with you always.

All good wishes and God's blessing be with you.

Mr. Richard M. Alway

President and Vice-Chancellor

Principal

Mr. Joseph Boyle

Congratulations to the graduates of the class of 1997. I am very pleased to be included among the well wishers listed in the 1997 edition of the Sword. Yearbooks are a wonderful invention; they preserve memories which bind people together in communities. So I congratulate in a special way Michael Lee-Poy and the staff of the Sword for the good work they have done for our community. I hope that human relationships whose beginnings are recorded here will grow and flourish throughout your lives. Keep St. Michael's a part of them.

When you are old and grey and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream . . .
— William Butler Yeats

It is the hope of the administration, faculty, staff, and alumni of St. Mike's that whenever you "take down this book and slowly read", you will have warm and pleasant dreams and memories of the college and of U of T. It is an even stronger hope that this yearbook will encourage you to keep your college and university friendships alive, and move you to keep contact through the St. Michael's Alumni Association with the college and with the people who came to be important to you here.

Best of luck, and God bless you in all the years to come — even before that time "when you are old and grey and full of sleep . . ."!

residence formal

On the night of Friday November 1st, 1996, the Men's and Women's Residence Formal took place. This marked the second year of the united residence formal (Men's Residence, St. Joseph's and Loretto College).

The evening began with a wine and cheese hosted by St. Joseph's residence. The event was graced with music by Judith MacIntyre and Myrtle Millares who played duets for the cello and piano.

After the wine and cheese, it was off to the very romantic CNTower for a night of dancing above the lights of the city of Toronto.

The buffet featured tender chicken, roast beef and pasta as well as very delicious desserts.

The dancing soon commenced after the dinner was over, as well as the exploring of the observation deck. Many camera flashes were seen continuously. Overall, it was a perfect night set high above the city. It almost felt like you were in the heavens.

Clockwise from top: "Hey, you girls have your bonding time in the powder room, we have ours when you're gone."; "God help us! We're trapped inside the CNTower!"; "You da man . . . you da man!" — Mike and Joe after a few drinks, and at a high altitude where the air is thinner.

making a mark at st. mike's

Adorning the beautiful architechture of St. Michael's campus are a few new carvings and structures. These additions are part of a long term project to further accent the college landscape of St. Mike's put into effect in the early eighties.

Kell's Nest

This stone carving was donated and created by Bill Vazan, an international artist renowned for his stone sculptures. The pattern etched in the rock symbolizes nature patterns all of its intricacies. The materials from which the etching was created are native to Canada. The stone sculpture is located at the North end of St. Michael's campus between Victoria College and St. Michael's northern border.

The original structure of Odette Hall was built on the Clover Hill estate in 1856 and was used as the students' and priests' residence, parish, rectory and faculty offices. However, with age came a need to renovate. In 1993, plans for renovation were initiated. In March 1995 the work on Odette hall began and was completed in July of 1996. The restoration was generously funded by Louis Odette. The dedication of Odette Hall took place on September 22, 1996 and included a symbolic blessing by Cardinal Carter and the ribbon cutting by Hal Jackman.

Louis Odette Hall

Consolation

This bronze sculpture was created by Joseph Rosenthal, a Canadian artist renowned for his art using printmaking, acrylic, oils and watercolour mediums, as well as for his bronze sculptures. The style of his work is representational. The bronze sculpture features two ladies in conversation, sitting on a bench. This sculpture was donated by Mr. Louis Odette and is located just in front of Charbonnel Lounge.

remembrance day

Every year on the 11th day of the 11th month, Canada honours the soldiers that gave their lives in war.

At Queen's Park, at the 11th hour, there is the tradition firing of the cannons.

The soldiers tower next to Hart House is open to the public for viewing. Of special notice is the stain glass memorial window that was placed in the tower last year.

In front of the soldiers tower is a wall in which all the names of the soldiers who attended University of Toronto and died in WW I, and WW II are engraved. Wreaths from the student body and the university staff are placed in front of this memorial.

St. Michael's College also holds its own memorial service at the 10th hour. SMC honours the St. Mike's soldiers that died for our freedom by engraving their names in the slipe located between the residences of Fisher and More House. The ceremony ended with a bagpiper playing the soldier's last call.

Clockwise from top: wreaths and flowers placed in front of the memorial wall in memory of the soldiers who gave their lives; the traditional firing of the cannons at Queen's Park; the hanging of the flags above the slipe at St. Michael's College.

campus life

St. Michael's proves that it certainly has some of the most entertaining people here at the University of Toronto.

Just when you thought that you met the wackiest and funniest people, there's always someone funnier at SMC.

Around the St. Mike's campus there is always someone being silly, whether it is SAC members hanging out at their favourite college (and the best college), or someone doing a wacky dance.

Although, I am sure the people featured in these pictures shall be trying to track me down, the students of St. Mike's have a right to see their other side. Right? Right.

So, if you find a picture that you particularly like on this page, remember to revisit the person when they are older and constantly show them the picture that made them famous.

Hey, a little joking and embarrassment never hurt anyone. Besides, these are the pictures that make the memories.

Clockwise from top: "Look Mom! They named a street after me!" — now we know why some streets have no signs; I look through my magic mirror and I see Paul, Dave, Joe, Siobhan, Eva and Michelle; "Come on and dance lika dis . . . yeah, it's cool!"

Clockwise from top left: "Here at SAC . . . we love you man!" Marco Santiguida welcomes the frosh; "Hmmmm . . . air goes in, balloon fills up . . . how interesting." — Tania marvels at the physics of filling up balloons; She fought the law, and guess who won; "Come here baby and give Bradley a kiss . . . " — Brad gives tips on how to pick up women; ever since that last beer, Kristi can't seem to stop laughing.

Christmas season is always eagerly anticipated, and once exams are over, the celebration begins.

However, even before the exams start, the longing for the holiday season and the waiting for the coming of Jesus Christ begins.

Many of the students and residences start their celebrations in late November, such as the annual St. Joseph's Rez Christmas Tree Decorating Party & Hot Chocolate Night. Their Christmas tree is displayed in the grand hall of '29'. As well, their front hall is also decorated. Loretto also holds their annual Christmas tree decorating in November.

Chaplaincy also held a beautiful Advent Carol Service in the third week of November at the chapel of St. Joe's to a filled audience.

As well, the St. Michael's Student Council holds their annual Kris Kringle Gift exchange on the last week of school, just before exams.

SMCSU also hosted a Christmas pub on Friday December 6th featuring the Mahones.

Clockwise from top: An angel tickles Vanessa's fancy . . . winterfest

Winterfest is a way to throw away the winter blues. St. Mike's, Vic and Trin coordinated this wintery weekend of fun and entertainment. These three colleges were the original founders of Winterfest.

It was held on the first weekend back from Christmas break — starting on Thursday January 9th, and ending on Saturday January 11th.

Some events offered on these three days included pubs by each of the three colleges, a ski day on the Friday, ice skating at Nathan Phillips, as well as a B.B.Q. dinner held at Trinity. On Saturday, a champagne breakfast started the day, after which there was Winter Olympics on the front campus of U of T.

Fun was had by all that attended the events. However, the highlight of Winterfest 1997 was the pub held at St. Michael's on the Friday night.

The Coop as well as Upper Brennan was packed to capacity. Below, DJ Josh played records nonstop, and above, the Skydiggers rocked to a very appreciative crowd.

Clockwise from top: Eva, Melissa and Erin stop to pose for the camera at the St. Mike's pub; Mike and Joe so just how much they like each other; a crowd gathers at Loretto before heading over to the pub; and Maxine tries to swindle her way past the bouncer at the door.

On the night of Saturday March 8th, 1997, the St. Michael's Students Union held their annual Double Blue Formal at the glitzy Delta Chelsea Hotel in downtown Toronto.

The evening began with a wine and cheese held at Loretto College. The event was complete with tranquile musical interlude by a residential Harpist, and lots of cheese and wine.

After that, dinner was served, consisting of antipasta, chicken in pesto sauce and topped with even more wine.

After dinner, the dancing commenced, to which everyone hit the floor and demonstrated why they should be crowned the 'Dancing Queen'. A few such candidates (Roy Morra and Natlie West) were caught on film — look for their pictures.

As well as dancing, many students mingled in the grand entrance to the ball room of the Delta Chelsea.

Everyone that was present was dressed to the 'T'. It truly was a black tie affair to remember.

Clockwise from top: Peter annoying the harpist at the wine and cheese; Roy Morra 'Stayin alive' on the dance floor; Scot, Brad, Cozzi and Palma otherwise known as 'the boyz'; Julia, 'Jazz', 'Abba', Domenica and Natalie before dinner was served, and while still sober.

Pub nites are always the most popular events of St. Michael's campus and attract students from all colleges.

The year began with a loud bang in September with the Time Warp Pub. Students dressed retro and danced to the tunes of the past decades.

In October, the ever popular Hallowe'en Pub was packed to capacity, and many unearthly costumes were seen that night.

In December, the Christmas season was rung in with a double decker dance. Featured at this pub were The Mahones.

To ring in the new year, St. Mike's held a Winterfest pub that was the highlight of the weekend of winter events. At the pub were the Skydiggers. The Winterfest pub was packed to capacity, and students (coming from all over U of T) had to be turned away.

As well, SMC held their annual St. Patrick's Day Pub, as well as the End of the World Pub to end the year on a celebratory note. Fun was had by all.

Clockwise from top: Loretto girls get into the mood for the Time Warp Pub; the Roman togas are modeled for the camera at the Hallowe'en Pub; and Katie² — Katie Gray and Katie Martin dance while working the door to attract students to the pub.

Clockwise from top left: "Peace buddy" — just another example of some of the wacky costumes displayed at the Hallowe'en Pub; the infamous coat check of St. Mike's; I don't have any clue what this guy is doing; Daneca, Terry, Dawn and Roy cool down by the doors; Daneca, Flanny, Mark and Lynn take a short break from dancing.

St. Michael's Drama Society participated in the Hart House Drama Festival on Wednesday January 29th. The play Harlequinade written by Terence Rattigan follows the lives of a theatrical troupe preparing for a performance of Romeo and Juliet. It was relatively conventional; it was relatively comprehensible; yet is was singularly captivating.

From the opening scene, laughter from the audience was deafening. The slightly addled Arthur, John Humphries, was hilarious and the performance of Mark Rainey as the central figure, Jack, was exceptional. From the ubiquitous and adorable earnest stages manager, Johnny, to the whiskey-tipping Dame Maud, each member of the cast contributed to engage the audience in the characters of the show.

The combined efforts of the cast, the direction of Maxine Marcellin, and the incredible set design of Martin Coyle and Jounghwa No ensured an unforgettable conclusion to the evening.

The St. Michael's Student Union (SMCSU — pronounced 'smiksoo') works hard to plan and organize the student services and events throughout the whole year. Such events include pubs, movie nights, B.B.Q.s, dances, formals and other student services.

Some highlights this year include the Winterfest pub which was filled to capacity (over 600 people attended). The Winterfest pub was held on Friday January 10th, and featured the band 'Skydiggers' which played for a packed floor. As well, the ski trip and B.B.Q. dinners held during the first weekend back from Christmas holidays were also a success.

Other highlights included the Christmas pub held on Friday December 6th, and featured the Mahones, as well as the Christmas Wine and Cheese which was held in Loretto College. Again, the wine and cheese was filled to capacity with little room for walking. The engagement was a huge success and a great way to ring in the Christmas holidays. Also memorable were the many DSAC B.B.Q.s, the Double Blue Formal and all the other events too numerous to list.

As well, the athletics of St. Michael's College continued to flourish. In the first term alone, the St. Michael's Touch Football and the Men's Division III Ice Hockey teams captured Championships! As well, many other teams placed in the top three teams of their respective fields. Congratulations to all.

SMCSU would like to thank all the students for their participating in the events in the 1996-1997 school year. Best of luck for the future. SMC truly says it all!

chaplaincy

Students of SMC are exposed to various situations in which they are able to reach out to the community, help those is need, and to spread the Christ light by participating in the numerous services and programs of St. Michael's College Chaplaincy. The program is directed by Fr. John Reddy and Sr. Joan Atkinson (refer to picture at left), and the S.M.C.S.U. Chaplaincy Commissioner is Michelle Henry.

One such opportunity was the student retreat that they held in late October. Students were invited to the Invermara Retreat Centre where they were encouraged to relax and become closer to Christ. The theme of the retreat was "Christ Among Us".

Also, the Chaplaincy program also runs an "Out of the Cold" Program that feeds homeless people every Wednesday.

As well, there is also a student choir that signs at the student masses every Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m. Thus, students are able to spread the Christ light within them through example.

One of the many aspects that St. Michael's exposes students to are extracurricular activities. In your university career there is so much more to learn than is taught in the classrooms. A lot of life's lessons cannot be taught in the class, thus, it is a good thing. A lot of life's lessons cannot be taught in the class, thus, it is a good thing St. Michael's also provides an enriching diversion from academics alone. All you have to do is sign up for one or more of SMC's clubs. No matter what your interests are, there's something for you at St. Mike's. There is definitely no better combination of learning and socializing than in this important part of the St. Michael's community. St. Michael's has it all!

The future leaders of tomorrow, preparing to take on the world's problems and opportunities gather here. A place where men and women come to live, yet at the same time, grow and experience the lessons of life.

From the fierce competitive spirit of house sports, to ritzy formal nights, to the lively discussions and debates held in the Canada Room; residence life is a place where we all grew and grew, learning what the true essence of friendship and spirit meant at St. Michael's College.

Graduates of St. Michael's can hold their heads up high with confidence. They are ready to face the tough world. St. Mike's has provided them with the tools for the rungs to the ladder of success. SMC is proud of every one of their graduates. They have not only been educated academically, but have also been exposed to other aspects of life that prepares them for the real world. Through extracurricular activities, they are exposed to people, the needy and learn how to respond to others. Through sports, they build character, learn valuable lessons and are taught to be fighters. Through it all, they have also made new friends and strengthened old friendships along the way. SMC graduates have it all! Congratulations and best of luck.

Sword '97 Editor-in-Chief

St. Michael's College exposes students to all aspects of life that lead to a successful and fulfilled existence. In whatever you choose to do, do so knowing you have the tools to become successful in whatever direction you choose to follow.

St. Michael's College offers the academics, the athletics, the community experience, the religious aspect, as well as the opportunity to form friendships that will last a lifetime . . . SMC says it all.

It is the hope of the Sword Staff 1997 that when you pick this book up, it is a reminder of the experiences you have had, the memories you have made, and the friendships you have formed at SMC.

To the Graduating class of 9T7, the Sword Staff congratulates, and to all of St. Mike's, we wish you the best in your future endeavours. Always be confident in yourself because within you lies success. May the lessons, experiences and friendships you have formed at St. Michael's College stay with you forever.

Best of wishes and God Bless.
